

New Blue Crab Tags for 2010/2011

This year the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission changed the type of tags used for the blue crab fishery. This change was a result of comments from the industry to find tags better suited for blue crab traps.

The following pictures are examples of what the tags will look like and how they are put on a trap. Your tags will have your V number, tag number, and the current license year printed on it.
