Captive Wildlife Investigators Alford and Corteguera responded to an escaped capuchin monkey. On their second day of searching, they were able to chemically immobilize the animal and return it to its owner. An investigation revealed that human error was the cause of the escape. The owner stated the monkey was becoming difficult to care for, and that he would place it at another facility. A warning was issued for the escape.

COMMUNITY ORIENTED POLICING

MONROE COUNTY

Officers Dube, Weichhan and Investigator Mattson assisted Mayor Forrester and Monroe County State Attorney Ward with passing out hot meals and other grocery items to locals in need. A collaboration of Feeding South Florida, Monroe County Sherriff's Office, SOS Foundation, the Ocean Reef Community Foundation, the United Way of Collier and the Keys, distributed free drive-through food distribution at the St. Justin Martyr Catholic Church in Key Largo.

PIO Officer Dube along with Officers Thompson and Hoppe participated in the first Coral Shores High School graduation parade in Islamorada. Officers drove marked patrol trucks in the parade along with EMS, Fire Rescue, and various local law enforcement agencies to send off the graduating Senior Class of 2020. Seniors received their diplomas as they passed the high school along the parade route. Despite the pandemic, this graduation ceremony -- although not traditional -- was a huge success and will become a new tradition at the school.

MAJOR WILDLIFE ASSISTANCE

Investigator Mattson along with Officers Janzen, Jacobs and Pestka responded to the Florida Keys Wild Bird Center in Tavernier. The Bird Center had a project manager from a roofing company drop off baby terns that had hatched, as well as eggs to their facility. FWC officers talked to the roofing company owner and told them that they would have to stop the project in order to protect the birds. Officers accompanied wild bird center employees to the condo in Islamorada to relocate the birds and eggs.

Investigator Mattson obtained a warrant for a Louisiana man after Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries saw an Instagram video that showed him capturing a brown pelican at Robbie's Marina of Islamorada and attempting to remove an identification band on the pelican's leg. The investigation revealed the subject captured the pelican within the boundaries of a state park, violated the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, and tormented an animal in a cruel and inhumane manner. The man turned himself in to the Monroe County Jail and the case will be prosecuted by the Monroe County State Attorney's Office.
