1. Do you catch and sell fish, shellfish, tropicals, or other saltwater products directly to the public?  Yes  No

► If you checked yes, you must also have a wholesale dealer license according to Florida Statute 379.362(4). Also, you must report each trip's catch to this office on Marine Fisheries Trip Tickets. Our office provides all supplies necessary to report.

Please note that to qualify for the restricted species endorsement, you must have sales of qualifying amounts reported under a wholesale dealer license. The retail license does not allow you to buy directly from other producers or sell to wholesale dealers. You must obtain a wholesale dealer's license to buy from other fishermen or sell to another wholesale or retail dealer.

2. Do you buy fish, tropicals, or other saltwater products from wholesale dealers?  Yes  No
 (If so, please list dealers below.)

Florida Statute 379.362 Wholesale and retail saltwater products dealers; regulation.—
(6) RECORDS TO BE KEPT ON SALTWATER PRODUCTS.—Wholesale dealers shall be required by the commission to make and preserve a record of the names and addresses of persons from whom or to whom saltwater products are purchased or sold, the quantity so purchased or sold from or to each vendor or purchaser, and the date of each such transaction. Retail dealers shall be required to make and preserve a record from whom all saltwater products are purchased. Such record shall be open to inspection at all times by the commission. A report covering the sale of saltwater products shall be made monthly or as often as required by rule to the commission by each wholesale dealer. All reports required under this subsection are confidential and shall be exempt from the provisions of s.119.07(1) except that, pursuant to authority related to interstate fishery compacts as provided by s.379.2253(3) and 379.2254(3), reports may be shared with another state if that state is a member of an interstate fisheries compact, and if that state has signed a Memorandum of Agreement or a similar instrument agreeing to preserve confidentiality as established by Florida law.

For additional information on record keeping/trip tickets, please contact the Fish and Wildlife Research Institute at (866) 447-5515. For licensing questions, please contact Commercial Saltwater Licensing at (850) 487-3122.
